ICC France

ICC France is one of the oldest (founded in 1921) and most active National Committees of the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC). It represents the voice of French companies within the world organization of businesses.

Its Arbitration Commission aims to draft and update the "ICC Rules" concerning arbitration and other forms of dispute resolution, study the legal issues related to arbitration, and promote ADR (Alternative Dispute Resolution) among French companies.

In 2023, we celebrate the Centenary of the ICC International Court of Arbitration, a pioneering institution in the field of international arbitration. This historic occasion offers us a valuable opportunity to reflect on this remarkable journey, highlighting significant achievements as well as the challenges to be addressed in the future.

Conference Theme

For the first time in its Centennial history, the International Court of Arbitration is organizing an unprecedented gathering, bringing together three of its former presidents alongside the current president, Claudia Salomon. This exceptional panel will allow the former presidents to share their respective experiences.

This remarkable meeting offers a unique opportunity to shed light on the significant events and challenges they encountered during their tenure. These insights will enrich the understanding of the major milestones in the recent history of the world's premier arbitration institution.

It will also serve as a platform to initiate a constructive dialogue between former presidents and young arbitration professionals on current challenges and prospects within the framework of the Centennial Declaration.
